

Once upon a time on small farm in the country, there lived a donkey named Albert. Albert loved to spend his days _____ in the _____, enjoying the sunshine and _____ the _____. One day, while Albert was napping under a tree, he was startled awake by a _____. The _____ introduced himself as _____ and asked Albert if he wanted to go on an adventure to find the legendary _____. Excitedly, Albert agreed and the two unlikely friends set off on their quest.

_____ and Albert walked through the fields until they came across _____ who asked them where they were going. _____ and Albert said they were off to find the legendary _____ and asked _____ if _____ wanted to go along. _____ agreed happily.

The trio now complete, the adventurers began their quest. Past the _____ on the other side of the fields they saw _____ and _____. They were quite the sight to see! Then the friends saw _____ and were _____ by them. After what seemed like _____, the trio came across a _____ where they _____. It had grown _____ and the friends were _____.

Suddenly, from within the woods, a _____ appeared! Albert, _____ and _____ were surprised! But Albert knew exactly what to do! So, Albert _____ the _____, and the _____ was _____. Albert's friends _____ at his _____ actions and off they wandered again.

After some time, there was a break in the trees. Albert, _____ and _____ peered through the leaves and saw the _____. They ran excitedly toward the _____. They laughed and _____. They had found the _____! The friends carried _____ back to the farm and were _____ to show the other animals what they had found. The other animals _____ and _____, and Albert and his friends were hailed as _____.